

From This Day Forward

Lisa,

You have created something wonderful in my life; something that was never there before I met you. The bond of strength and trust we have forged, no matter the obstacles we faced, is just the beginning of a lifetime of commitment, joy and happiness. The little ways you express your love to me and to our family, your generosity, and your kind heart have made it easy to fall in love with you over and over again. We are truly the right "fit" for one another; I am the peanut butter to your jelly...we belong together. I cannot wait to grow blissfully old with you, while staying young at heart.

I will never forget, nor take for granted, all you have brought to me: A partner who understands, supports, and loves me for exactly who I am; a best friend who encourages me when I am down; a woman of inner-strength and conviction who never gives up; a soul mate who shares my values and goals, filling my heart with joy and our future with endless possibilities.

No matter the circumstances of our lives, or the condition of the world around us, I will always put you first Lisa. When you need strength, you will have mine. When you need comfort, I will be there to provide it. If you fall, I will be there to catch you. When you need encouragement, laughter, and cheer, I will be ready with all of my energy and confidence. As always, I will bring to you the very best of me, to bring out the best in us, and the best in the children we cherish. I love you, from the bottom of my heart, and I will be telling you that from now until forever.
